A one-day conference
sponsored by The Business
Archives Council of Scotland and Glasgow Museums

Glasgow museums

The conference will examine the sources and supply of Scotland's Energy since 1945 and where this is to come from in the future. Speakers will discuss both the economic and social implications of these developments. An underlying theme will be the identification of primary source materials for the study of these industries which are a significant part of Scotland's economic and cultural story.

Programme includes:

Glasgow Museums and its Resources for Industrial History, Dr. Martin Bellamy, Glasgow Museums

The Scottish Coal Mining Industry since 1945, Dr. Miles Oglethorpe, Historic Scotland

Energy and Industrial Politics; the Miners' strikes of 1972, 1974 and 1984-5, Dr. Jim Phillips, University of Glasgow

Electricity Generation Policy in Scotland since 1945, Dr. Martin Chick, University of Edinburgh

Resources of RCAHMS for the study of the Electricity Industry, Miriam MacDonald, RCAHMS

The North Sea Oil and Gas Story (The Joan Auld Lecture), Prof. Alex Kemp, University of Aberdeen

Capturing the Energy: a North Sea Documentation Project, Siobhan Convery, University of Aberdeen

Combining Resources, John Holt, Glasgow Caledonian University

The National Museums Collection on Renewables, Rowan Brown, National Museums of Scotland
